July Commentary

Your Fund produced a return of +2.6% during the month, compared to +2.0% for the FTSE All-Share Index (TR).

Investors could be forgiven for being enticed by a FTSE All-Share dividend yield of over 4% with ten year gilt yields at 0.5% and cash yielding close to zero. However, the headline UK equity market yield disguises an unusually polarised index. Companies with attractive dividend growth profiles and robust cover have seen their share prices rise, consequently shrinking their yields. Meanwhile, many mature companies with leaner growth prospects and stretched payout ratios have seen their yields rise to what we believe in many cases are unsustainable levels. It is this latter group that has skewed the overall yield on the market and which now act as a considerable drag on the rate of future UK equity income growth.

Our commitment to investors has been to provide a balance between income and capital growth. In our view, to grow the Fund's dividend in current market conditions represents too great a risk to capital. For some time we have been lowering the Fund's exposure to higher yielding stocks in the portfolio and adding names with better dividend growth potential. The recent period of strong performance has helped us to implement these changes to the portfolio.

As a result the interim dividend for the six months to the end of July will be unchanged at 1.78p. As always, we will monitor the Fund's income stream carefully through the second half of the year.

It is by holding a portfolio of companies that produce growing and sustainable dividends that we can continue to deliver our long-term ambition. This is to preserve the real value of our investors' capital, and to provide a return that can compound over time.
