January Commentary

Your Fund returned +6.5% during the month compared to +5.5% for the FTSE All-Share Index (TR). After a soft end to 2024, UK equities bounced back strongly in January.

One of the Fund's top performers over the month was Experian (+16.8%), which rose on the back of solid Q3 results. As one of the world's three major credit bureaus, alongside Equifax and TransUnion, Experian's products and services are central in enabling credit to flow within economies, especially in the US where they have a market-leading position. Experian's data and analytics enable organisations to make smarter lending decisions, whilst their consumer offering allows individuals to track and improve their credit scores. The outcome is lower risk and lower costs for both parties.

Q3 results demonstrated a continuation of healthy underlying growth (c.8%) and confirmed that the company is on track to grow profits ahead of sales over the coming years. We have been consistently impressed by how management has reinvested back into the business, developing numerous new products whilst also updating and future proofing its technology stack. We have also found it highly reassuring just how resilient the company has traded during both the pandemic and through the recent interest rate hiking cycle.

Experian is one of the longest-standing holdings within the Fund and we consider it to be one of the best technology businesses in the UK market. We will shortly publish our latest newsletter, in which we will discuss Experian and more specifically, its competitive advantage in more detail.

Finally, we started a new holding in a high-quality UK company this month. We look forward to sharing more details in an upcoming factsheet.
