The investment objective of the Trojan Ethical Fund is to provide capital growth (net of fees), ahead of inflation (UK Retail Prices Index), over the longer term (5 to 7 years). Its investment policy is to invest across a broad range of asset classes. Whilst asset allocation will vary, in general, the investment universe will comprise high-quality, developed market equities, developed market government bonds, gold related investments, cash and money market instruments (such as treasury bills). The portfolio will be constructed with input from both top-down analysis (looking at an economy as a whole) and bottom-up analysis (study of individual securities). The Fund will invest in accordance with the parameters of its Ethical Investment Criteria.

September Commentary

We met with the Chief Financial Officer of Procter & Gamble in September. The shares are held in Trojan Ethical Fund and have been a strong contributor to the Fund's performance since inception. Despite evidence that the world economy is slowing, P&G is firing on all cylinders and momentum in the business looks set to continue. Eighteen months ago, the narrative about the death of big brands was strident. This coincided with a pick-up in bond yields that led the share prices of many regular dividend payers to sell off.

Just over a year later and most of the consumer staple manufacturers we own are reasserting their strength following concerted measures taken to improve their competitiveness. Our conviction has consistently been that market-leading consumer staple brands, synonymous with their categories, are here to stay. The disruptive forces of ecommerce and digital advertising lower the barriers to entry but barriers to scale remain for the strongest players. Online shelf space, while infinite in theory, is limited in practice to the top search results.

E-tailers like Amazon will not relegate their largest revenue generators to the second page. Meanwhile even unicorn consumer goods start-ups are struggling to make profits. P&G is more competitive today than it has been for many years which is borne out in current trading. Its strong brands, like Pampers, are now backed by a leaner business, with greater accountability setting the group up for continued success.

Ethical Exclusion Criteria

The Trojan Ethical Fund will adhere to the following ethical investment criteria.

Equities

The present ethical investment criteria mean that the Fund will not invest in any organisation which:

Alcohol – derives more than 10% of its total turnover from the sale or production of alcohol.

Armaments – (a) generates more than 10% of its total turnover from strategic military supplies relating to conventional weapons and/or (b) produces key parts of, or provides services for, cluster munitions systems, and/or (c) is alleged to have contravened the convention on anti-personnel mines in the last ten years and which has not addressed the allegations, and/or (d) manufactures products, or provides services, which are all or part of a nuclear weapons system.

Fossil Fuels – (a) derives more than 33% of its total turnover from the refining or extraction of, or generation of power from, fossil fuels and/ or (b) derives more than 10% of its turnover from coal mining activities. Companies whose listing falls within Oil & Gas sector are also excluded.

Gambling – derives more than 10% of its total turnover from gambling (including spread betting).

High Interest Rate Lending – derives more than 25% of its total turnover from high interest rate lending (high interest being defined as lending at an annual percentage rate (APR) of over 100%).

Pornography – derives more than 3% of its total turnover from pornography or adult entertainment.

Tobacco – makes more than 10% of its total turnover from tobacco products.

Government and Public Securities

Investment in government debt is limited to that issued by Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the UK and the US (commonly known as the "G7"). The Fund will not invest in the securities of any sovereign issuer which is subject to a sanction issued by either the United Nations or the European Union. The Investment Manager would only consider investing more than 35% of the Fund's assets in UK or US government issued transferable securities or approved money market instruments.

Gold Related Investments

The Fund will seek to minimise exposure to gold mined prior to 2012, which is the date after which it can be ascertained that gold has been sourced in compliance with the London Bullion Market Association's Responsible Gold Guidance.
