August Commentary

Your Fund returned +1.0% during the month compared to +0.3% for the MSCI World Index (NR) GBP.

We met with the management team of Admiral Group this month following strong results. As in previous insurance cycles Admiral has done an excellent job of navigating the recent very volatile after-effects seen in this industry post-COVID. Core to the investment case has always been the group's demonstrated ability to underwrite profitably as evidenced by a consistently low combined ratio (low is good in this context). This allows the company to offload insurance risk via reinsurance while retaining profitability. This is a large part of what makes Admiral a special business.

Added to this is the agility of the management team. The company's dominant market share in UK motor insurance leads it to have excellent real-time data. There is a notable independence of thought and decision making derived from a culture of open and honest communication at the most senior level. This has enabled them to price effectively as well as scale their underwriting at optimal points in the cycle. The result has been both enhanced profitability as well as an ability to take market share from more leaden-footed competitors.

All of this was evident in recent results leading to a c.8% rise in the share price on the day of the announcement. Total premium growth increased by a remarkable 60% year-on-year from a combination of higher rates and policy count growth. Earnings per share were better than expected as was the welcome dividend increase.

Balanced against this, the company's international operations continue to make heavy weather. Admiral has struggled to replicate its business model in other countries, leading to lacklustre growth and profitability. A low value must therefore be ascribed to this business. As such the shares are reasonably valued at c. 16x 2025 earnings but can no longer be said to be cheap. It remains a high-quality global income asset and a long-term investment in the fund.
